

On geodesic equivalence principle

I will discuss a class of completely integrable Hamiltonian systems whose integrability follows from a general construction called geodesic equivalence principle.